Proposed Swimming Baths for Richmond

New Auto Fire Truck for Eastside. Reports of Officers and Other City Business.

The city council met in regular session last Monday night, and transacted considerable business of importance. The meeting was called to order by Mayor Owens, all members being present except McPherson. The council chamber auditorium was well filled with spectators, all apparently deeply interested in the proceedings.

The question of purchasing a new fire truck for Company No. 2 came up, with several representatives present. The Seagrave machine, now in use by Company No. 1, was decided to be entirely satisfactory by the council. Chairman Willis, of the finance committee, stated that after a due investigation, the fire company and the finance committee were satisfied with the Seagrave and recommended the purchase of the same kind of a machine as was provided for Company No. 1. Upon roll call it was voted to purchase a Seagrave.

Concerning the matter of reducing the number of poles along Washington avenue, Park Place and Richmond avenue, Councilman Follett of the street committee reported that an agreement was being reached by the various companies, whereby the number of poles will be reduced, the different companies to use jointly the poles.

The most important action of the council was the preliminary steps taken toward the building of the Richmond harbor. The first proceeding was the adoption of a resolution of intention to do the work.

A communication from the Santa Fe company was read, stating that the company was ready to proceed with the improvement of Astland avenue as soon as the assessment matter was adjusted.

G. W. Cushing was granted an extension of sixty days on his contract for the improvement of Twentieth, Rheim and Montgomery streets.

Property owners living in the vicinity of Fourth street and Nevins avenue complained about the erection of a frame building in that section. The matter was referred to the city architect and the building committee.

A communication from E. B. Hall was read, asking that the city council take steps for establishing a municipal swimming pool. The request was referred to Councilman Garrard.

The council adopted its resolution of intention to change the grade on Santa Fe avenue from Richmond avenue to Pacific avenue. Resolution of intention was passed for the improvement of Tunnel, Tewksbury and Nicholl avenues.

The commissioners' report on the opening of Castro street was regally accepted and adopted.

City Auditor McVittie rendered his report for the month of September.

Tax Collector I. E. Marshall submitted his report for the month of September, showing money collected by him amounting to $1225.

Police Judge Lindsey reported in full, fines and fees collected amounting to $445.

City Treasurer Bonzagni rendered his report for September showing total receipts and disbursements.

Health Commissioner Blake rendered his monthly report for September.

Councilman Dooling moved that all claims passed by the finance committee, totaling $13425 be allowed.

Another Hotel.

Odell & Stidham, realty operators, announce that a four story concrete hotel will be erected at the corner of Standard and Santa Fe avenues on the west side. The names of the investors are being withheld for the present, but building operations will commence at an early date, say the above realty operators.

Editors Entertained By Chamber of Commerce

California State Press Association Guests of Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

Editors and publishers from all over the Golden State were the guests, last Saturday, of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, and the Richmond Terminal represented the young factory city in full force. In fact, nearly every newspaper in the vicinity of the bay cities and central portion of the state was represented, and the members of the press association transacted some important business after the entertainment features were attended to.

The itinerary of the program was carried out to the minute, and members of the committee on entertainment are to be complimented for the clock like precision in carrying out a day of entertaining, planned in advance and improved on in execution. Dozens of automobiles were employed in showing the editors and their wives the many attractive features of Oakland. The sumptuous banquet at the Forum, the speeches by Messrs. Gibson, Suooks, Leavitt, Wells Drury, Capwell, McPherson and others made many converts to the anti annexation proposition, and red hot editorials are now being set in cold type to defeat the gobbling up of the bay cities at the coming November election.

A vigorous campaign against annexation is being carried on by the Alameda County League, with headquarters in the big Syndicate building, Oakland, under the direction of B. P. Miller. Mr. Miller is doing excellent work, and thousands of letters are being scattered broadcast over the state daily by his large force of assistants.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce is one of the wide awake organizations of the Pacific Coast, and has made the world sit up and take notice. The members and officers of this organization, and all of Alameda county are working tooth and nail to defeat annexation. They are going to beat the proposition three to one.

Printing.

The Richmond Terminal is the oldest union label newspaper in Richmond and has always been fair and consistent in its dealings with organized labor. The Terminal does not do printing ridiculously cheap. Cheap printing invariably bears the earmarks of the "artist" who executes the work—cheap printer, cheap stock, cheap ink and a mussy result. The Terminal prints anything from a visiting card to a full sheet poster. Call and see for yourself.

Rainbow Trout.

The Terminal office was pleasantly surprised Wednesday on receiving a box of those speckled beauties that inhabit the mountain streams of northern California and which are very rarely discovered on the menu cards of the common every day newspaper man. L. C. Green, of Oakland, who is exploring the Feather river country, sent the fish and caught them "on his own hook" and can have all the press notices available if he will continue sending in more trout.

Guests of G. A. R. Ladies.

Richmond Circle No. 55, G. A. R. entertained Tuesday afternoon at whist, and honors for the best scores were awarded to Miss Cairns, Miss Gaylord, Mrs. Berlock and Mrs. Redmond, all of whom received prizes. Tomorrow evening the circle is to tender a supper to the members of Richmond Post No. 201, G. A. R.

Iowa Hawkeyes to Picnic.

The Iowa Association of the Bay Cities will give a basket picnic tomorrow at Mosswood park. An elaborate program by Iowans and others who live in the bay region will be rendered. There will be games and athletic events to interest the big crowd that is expected.

Richmond Harbor Booster Banquet

Colonial Hostelry Scene of Enthusiastic Throng of Citizens of Bay Cities.

The meeting of the Industrial Commission in West Richmond last Tuesday night will long be remembered as an important event in the history of this city, for it was at this meeting that the plans of the harbor project that will make Richmond known as a great seaport the world over were placed on exhibition and thoroughly explained by Engineer P. A. Haviland to the members and guests of the commission.

Mr. Haviland's comprehensive report, requiring several weeks to compile, was interesting in its details and the means of enlightening many who heretofore were in doubt as to the magnitude of this great improvement. Mr. Haviland assured the members that the inner harbor, the outer harbor and the tunnel were all feasible and worthy of the highest development, and that the United States government engineers fully endorsed the plans and recommended the completion of the project.

The campaign committee organized at this meeting is composed of members of the Richmond Board of Trade and the Industrial Commission. By co operation the campaign of education will be thorough and the people will be enlightened so that all may vote intelligently on the bond proposition at the November election.

The banquet supper served by Miss Kate Riorden, proprietress of Hotel Colonial, was excellent and greatly enjoyed by all.

Those present were: President of the Commission Claude Gignoux, Secretary H. W. Weruse, Engineer P. A. Haviland, Edward J. Burg, C. Kilkenny, J. S. Miller, C. M. Brewer, J. C. Owens, E. J. Gardard, C. R. Blake, W. A. Lucas, Bert Kerley, Fred S. Newsom, Harry Ellis, H. W. Pulse, Harry Pettilion, Ben Boorman, D. A. Knowles, M. J. Beaumont, Paul Edwards, J. W. Morris, J. Steivater, John F. Galvin, Geo. W. Ryan.

Big Salary Offered Roosevelt.

In event Theodore Roosevelt is defeated for President of the United States at the coming election, he may accept a position as editor of the New York Press at $50,000 per year. The owner of the Press, Frank A. Munsey, says that the Press could well afford to pay Mr. Roosevelt $100,000 a year.

Passing of Pioneer.

Joseph Barnard, a pioneer, resident of Martinez and formerly connected with the sheriff's office of Contra Costa, dropped dead while talking with friends on the porch of his home. Death was caused by heart failure. He was 76 years of age.

Favor Home Labor.

The resolution adopted by the members of the Industrial Commission at its meeting in Richmond last Tuesday night will meet with the approval of the workmen of this city and will have a tendency to prohibit the practice of sending out of Richmond for labor, both skilled and unskilled, when the same can be procured at home. The commission has asked the city council and all civic bodies to give Richmond laborers the preference, and to embody this obligation in all contracts.

World's Series of National Game

Greatest Baseball Players Arrayed Against Each Other in Battle Array.

Business has been almost at a standstill in many of the eastern cities on account of the contest between the pennant winners of the two great leagues, the New York Nationals and the Boston Americans. The first game resulted in Boston's favor by a 3 to 2 score, played in New York and was a thriller up to the last man out in the ninth. Twirler Joe Wood, the pitcher with the smoke ball, the swiftest and most deceptive curve and drop of living pitcher, was in the box for Boston. With two on, with two strikes and three balls, with 50,000 "human fiends" yelling, Joe Wood struck out the batter at the critical moment and saved the day for the beantown contingent by a narrow margin.

The second game, played in Boston, went eleven innings, the game being called on account of darkness, the score a tie, each team scoring six tallies.

The third game was played yesterday at Boston, Marquard of New York, winning his own game, 2 to 1.

Working Double in Reality.

A novel way of working double, perhaps after some ancient style, was illustrated on the streets of Richmond last Tuesday, when a couple from the webfoot country, hitched up in harness and drawing a light wagon containing camping utensils, appeared on the streets. They claimed to be man and wife and gave their names as Aickley. The couple started from Seattle on June 12 and have been hiking ever since, camping on the soft side of Shasta mountain and in the red gravel dust of the northern counties. They claim to have traveled 1000 miles and did not miss a meal or have a puncture, the small Studebaker being fitted with solid tires. Mrs. Aickley said they coasted many of the mountain grades, using the customary brush drag which insured their safe descent. They terminated their journey in Oakland where they will camp until after the 1915 Big Show.

"Still Going Down."

The Nicholl oil well at Richmond avenue is showing good indications and the four foot strata of sand, the first encountered in the boring of the well, indicates that the drill is in close proximity to a subterranean lake of oil. One of the greatest experts in oil well drilling and who has located more wells than any man in California, said to a Terminal reporter that there was oil in large quantities here, and that the Nicholl well would eventually tap this lake of oil. The well is now down 1075 feet, and the drill is in gravel and rock. The well will be put down 2000 feet if necessary.

Frank Thole Returns.

Frank Thole, the well known pioneer of Richmond, has returned from Mexico where he has several hundred acres of the richest land in the world. Mr. Thole says the "climate" is rather warm in Mexico at present, and he may not return until the revolution is ended.

Plans For Bridge Across Suisun Bay

War Department Claims That Draw Should Be at Least 400 Feet Wide.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The plans proposed by the Oakland, Antioch & Eastern railroad for a bridge across Suisun Bay are unsatisfactory to the war department. General Bishop, chief of engineers, says the 200 foot opening as proposed, does not satisfy the shipping interests, who claim it would be dangerous to pass through in a high wind, and especially for a vessel in tow. The draw opening, he says, should be at least 400 feet wide, which would give ample room. Bixby raises no objection to the vertical lift and says 150 feet is sufficient to allow vessels to clear.

Wesley M. E. Big Plant.

Many of Richmond's townsmen have little conception of the size and capacity of the fine big Wesley M. E. church at the corner of Ninth and Nevins. Although the church is not finished, and services are being held in the basement, the enterprising and well known pastor, Rev. D. W. Calfee, says that the building will be finished throughout in the near future, if he has to do the work himself, which is not at all likely. The congregation of this church is increasing at a rapid rate, owing to the energy and earnestness of its pastor. The building is a credit to the city. The members of the church comprise the best citizenship. The services last Sunday night at this church, under the auspices of the Brotherhood of St. Paul, packed the auditorium, and the musical numbers and social features were enjoyed by all.

New Church.

Plans for the Presbyterian church have arrived and the building committee will pass upon them at an early date. Sunday morning subject, "Jesus or Paradise Regained." Evening, "The Maker of Strong Hearts." All welcome. Rev. G. A. White pastor. Church at corner of 12th and Bissell.

Deeds to 480 acres of land in the eastern part of the county were filed with the County Recorder last Friday. The land was the property of Mrs. Juliette Harding and was sold to the Orwood Land Company.

Awarded Contract.

Contractor Tom Coates, of this city, was awarded the contract for constructing the new cottage of S. W. Cunningham on Division street Bay Point. The new home will consist of five rooms.

To Fix Values.

John Mitchell of the state board of equalization has appointed R. Harkinson of Antioch, and A. S. Ormsby of Walnut Creek, as appraisers of values for Contra Costa county. They will be under the supervision of the state equalizers and have already taken up their duties.

Good Prices for Grapes.

Wine grapes in this vicinity are bringing good prices. From $20 to $21 per ton is being offered, while in adjoining counties the prices are much lower. Contra Costa wine grapes always bring far better prices than the grapes in the San Joaquin country because of the quality.—Martinez Standard.

New Company.

The Richmond Realty and Building company filed articles of incorporation with the county clerk Friday. The company is incorporated for $50,000 and there are 5,000 shares of stock of the value of $10 each. The headquarters will be at Richmond. The incorporators are C. A. Bates, San Jose; W. F. Bray, Bakersfield and Frank H. Benson, San Jose.

IRRIGATION MEN END SESSION

Equitable Distribution of Interstate Streams Again Urged

The Congress Will Co-operate with San Diego Fair for Big Exhibit There

Salt Lake City—With the election of officers the twentieth International Irrigation Congress adjourned to meet next year at Phoenix, Ariz. The delegates attended a ball and reception given in their honor.

Richard W. Young of Salt Lake City was elected president by unanimous vote upon recommendation of the committee on permanent organization. At the last moment the several cities that sought the next congress withdrew in favor of Phoenix. In addition to Young the officers named are:

J. B. Case, Abilene, Kas.; John Fairweather, Fresno, Cal.; S. H. Lee, Pierre, S. D.; Richard F. Burges, El Paso, Texas; and Kurt Grundwald, Pueblo, Colo., vice-presidents, and Arthur Hooker, secretary.

The report of the resolutions committee was adopted by the congress as a declaration of principles. The principles hold that federal control as to equitable distribution of the water of interstate streams, renew the endorsement of the congress of the Newlands river regulation bill, approve the federal forest policy and favor its extension and recognize the establishment of the United States reclamation service as second only in importance to the passing of the reclamation act.

According to the principles the law should require that all contracts for the sale of power developed by a reclamation project shall be approved by a water users' association under such a project.

The following was included in the resolutions:

"Resolved, That the National Irrigation Congress co-operate to the fullest extent with the Panama-California Exposition in producing at San Diego in 1915 the most elaborate and comprehensive international irrigation exhibit that has ever been assembled.

"We invite the attention of the president and directors of the Panama-Pacific Exposition to the propriety of making provision for an adequate exhibit of irrigated states at the San Francisco exposition.

The principal address of the day was made by Henry S. Graves United States forester.

"Within the last three years," he said, "there has been an agitation in certain quarters that the government abandon its policy of national forestry and turn its national forests over to the states. Underlying this question is another, which must really be settled by the same answer, namely, whether the national forests shall be parceled out to the individuals and corporations, and forest conservation, as a public policy, abandoned.

"The first national interest in those lands is that of the continuance of timber production. It is imperative to the whole nation that these areas be handled with care and their productivity increased. The second great national interest is the protection of navigable rivers and interstate waters. Their practical consideration, which is really conclusive, is that the protection, administration and improvement of the national forests involve a financial burden which the states could not carry."

STATE EGG SHOW TO BE HELD IN WATSONVILLE

Watsonville—Through the efforts of Professor J. E. Dougherty of the state farm school at Davis, the first egg show ever held in California will be a big feature of the annual poultry display to be held here in November. The educator placed the matter before the local poultry association, and upon its promise to act as judge and use its best efforts to see that all the egg-producing sections of California were represented, a decision was reached favoring his project. It will be a part of the movement backed by Dougherty to improve the egg pack of the state.

Alaska Survey Complete

San Francisco—The Alaskan boundary survey officials have returned and reported the survey from the boundary line of Alaska to the Arctic seas has been completed. The surveyors included officials from the United States geodetic survey and from Canada. The party was in command of Civil Engineer Thomas Riggs Jr., who is in Seattle. He will arrive in San Francisco in a few days.

Madero Seeking Peace

Washington—The Mexican government apparently is making no secret of the fact that it is negotiating with Zapata for peace, according to reports to the state department. The strong representations made to the Mexican government by Ambassador Calero at the instance of President Taft is said to be having a powerful effect on the Madero government.

Salmon Demand is Good

Seattle (Wash.)—Every available case of sockeye salmon has been disposed of, according to local fish brokers. The demand for red salmon has been nearly all of the 1912 pack and brokers anticipate little difficulty in disposing of the remaining supply.

TAFT ELECTORS RULED OFF OFFICIAL BALLOT BY STATE SUPREME COURT

Primary Law Declared Unjust, but Still It Is the Law and the Court Has No Discretion in Interpreting It

San Francisco—The Supreme Court on Thursday refused to grant the petition for a writ of mandamus to compel Secretary of State Jordan to print the names of the Taft electors in the Republican column on the Presidential ballot.

The denial of the petition leaves but one way for the Taft men to vote for their Presidential candidate in California, and that is by writing in the names of the Taft electors on the ballots.

The Supreme Court decision was rendered on demurrer filed by Attorney General Webb to a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel Secretary of State Jordan to print the names of the Taft electors in the Republican column on the Presidential ballot.

The petition, which was filed on Monday, was based on the contention that the eighty-seven members of the State convention who named the Roosevelt electors had ceased to become Republicans when they repudiated Taft and Sherman and endorsed Roosevelt and Johnson. It was asserted that the thirteen bolters who named Taft electors composed the only true Republican State convention.

John S. Clayberg, David S. Rose and Walter R. Bacon appeared as attorneys for the Taft men. Attorney General Webb argued the case for Jordan. A large number of attorneys and politicians were listeners.

The proceedings were more or less informal. Frequent comments were made by the justices as the arguments were presented. In one of these comments Chief Justice Beatty criticized the primary law thus:

"If a political party meet in a convention regularly chosen and acts according to its notions of political expediency, good faith and honesty, the courts cannot inquire into it. That is answer the test. They have registered as Republicans. They could have repudiated their affiliations to the Republican party and made themselves members of another party. Or there could have been another party under that other name, but they did not do that. They remained according to the test prescribed as members of the Republican party. They elected their delegates to the convention and the convention was regularly held, and it acted according to its notions of political expediency and good faith. And the courts cannot inquire into it. We cannot decide political questions. We can decide only what is legal under the State law."

"I have not a very good opinion of this law. I think it is a very bad law, and will practically disfranchise one-third of the voters of the State. It disfranchises absolutely all the voters of the State as to one-third of their proper representation in the State Convention. The holdover Senators were never elected to perform any such duty. They were never given that authority except by themselves, and as to the others, there were fourteen, I believe, holdover Republicans in fourteen Senatorial districts in this State.

"The Democrats were absolutely disfranchised as to the selection of one-third of their proper representation in the State Convention, and in six of the Senatorial districts the Republicans were disfranchised—they could only elect two-thirds of the representation properly apportioned to their districts."

"The law might have answered very well under ordinary circumstances, but in a condition like this it does not and it is not justifiable, in my opinion, but it is the law. I think anybody that could see the way in which this law operates can see that it does operate practically to disfranchise the voters in the whole State as to one-third of the representation and as to that one-third of that representation in the State conventions it might very easily change the nomination of Electors. If they had had such a law at the time Buckner and Bryan were rival Democratic candidates for Presidency, it might very well have resulted in the nomination of President Electors who would have voted for Buckner. The law ought not to have been passed in my opinion, but being passed, we are bound by it. As long as it is conceded to be constitutional, I believe the Court is entirely agreed to deny the applications."

It was argued by Attorney General Webb that the Supreme Court was concerned no further than the election and qualification of the members of the State convention and that after that the State convention was the depository of party power and could do whatever it liked.

The Supreme Court justices agreed with Webb and sustained his demurrer chiefly on the point, Webb said: "This is but a political question, one involving only dissension and inharmonious in the Republican party of California determining whether the Supreme Court can sit for the purpose of harmonizing party differences."

"It is not a matter of fact," responded Rose. "It is a matter of two distinct and separate political parties, one known as the Republican party and the other as the Progressive party. You and those you represent are out of the Republican party, General Webb."

"Oh, no; we're not. We are very much in it," rejoined Webb. "It is expected that Chief Justice Beatty will hand down a written opinion of the case."

CONGRESS MUST DECIDE QUERY "WHAT IS BEER?"

Washington.—After mulling over the question, "What is beer," for more than two years, the Department of Agriculture has decided that it does not know and will pass the matter up to Congress, when it convenes in December.

Secretary Wilson some time ago reached the conclusion that beer was a beverage made of barley, malt, hops, yeast and potable water, and was about to pronounce this conclusion and compel the brewers under the pure food act to make beer out of these materials, or if not so made to brand it imitation beer.

Dr. Wiley was primarily responsible for this definition of beer and strongly advocated the strict enforcement of it. The brewers of the country put up a stiff fight against the conclusion and were reached by the department and were aided by the corn-products people. The Consumers' League also made strong representations on the subject. Today Secretary Wilson definitely decided that additional legislation was necessary before he could make any decision.

Liability Commission's Report

Seattle.—The industries of Washington cause an average of one death for every working day and 1000 accidents of various kinds a month, according to figures compiled by the State Industrial Insurance Commission, which completed its first year of active service yesterday. During the year there were 12,000 accidents and 312 deaths. The commission collected $980, 445 from employers and paid claims amounting to $445,527. Of the balance of $534,918, $243,984 is in reserve to meet pensions that have been allowed.

Poll Tax Vote in 1914

Sacramento.—Having secured a total of 32,611 signatures on the petition invoking the initiative for the abolition of the poll tax, this measure, according to a report issued today from the office of the Secretary of State, is now assured of being submitted to the people in 1914 or at a special election subsequent to that of next November.

WIFE AND BABIES HAVE FIRST CALL ON PAY ENVELOPE

Los Angeles.—Loan sharks and collection agencies, who can make any prey of the city employees, were given a knockout jolt by Judge Monroe today, when he declared from the bench that a wife and babies have first call on a man's pay envelope and the collector second.

The decision was made in the separate maintenance suit of Mrs. Marian Dunn against her husband, Frank Archer Dunn, an employee of the city water department. Dunn was ordered to first pay his wife $50 each month for the support of herself and children, and to settle the demands of his creditors afterward with the balance of his $100-a-month salary. In making his ruling Judge Monroe said:

"No wife should be left to the charity of friends. A man should pay his debts and not fall into the clutches of his creditors. But at the same time no part of his wages can be taken by garnishment proceedings when his wife and babies need all the money he can earn."

Dunn's defense was that he was so bound by collectors that he was unable to pay his wife much money.

DEVICE WILL PREVENT COLLISION AT SEA

Washington.—The navy department will soon begin experiments with a new device to prevent collisions at sea, the invention of two Liverpool engineers. The invention is an electrical sound indicator carried at the top of a mast. It indicates the direction of the noise made by an approaching vessel, the sound impinging on sensitive drums which ash electric lights.

Pack for Conservation President

Indianapolis.—Charles Lathrop Pack, an expert forester and millionaire of Cleveland, was elected president of the National Conservation congress. Amendments to the constitution placing the congress on a permanent basis with a membership roll instead of having the delegates appointed by states, municipalities and organizations were adopted.

SAN FRANCISCO DECLARED TO BE HILL ROAD GOAL

Vallejo.—That the hand of James J. Hill is back of the Northern Electric, which has acquired the Vallejo Northern, is the declaration of persons here in authority, who make the statement that Hill and the Great Northern railroad will be in San Francisco inside of one year.

It is no secret that Hill has had his eye on the California field for the past few years, but his plans have always been blocked by the Harriman interests. San Francisco has been Hill's ultimate goal, but he has found that he was effectually shut out on all corners.

The tidewater terminal of the Vallejo Northern at this city offered the only entry to San Francisco bay, and while the plans of the electric line were always kept secret, it develops that they have acquired a right to forty acres of good water front property directly across from the northern extremity of Mare Island yard. That this big tract is necessary for the Vallejo Northern is ridiculous, say interested parties.

Now it is whispered that for two years Hill has been quietly buying up the Northern Electric, the Sacramento Valley Electric and small feeders which have merged with the Vallejo Northern, give connections from San Francisco to Red Bluff, with a big water front property here. Hill has rights of way options from the Oregon line down to Redding, which, with his Deschutes river route makes his connections complete. It is reported that Eureka is also included in this system.

TO PRINT MANY MILLIONS OF THE EXPOSITION STAMPS

Washington.—Work on the plates for printing the Panama-Pacific Exposition stamps was begun Thursday at the bureau of engraving and printing, the designs having been approved yesterday by Postmaster General Hitchcock.

Postmaster General Hitchcock reconsidered his decision to print 1,000,000 of the stamps for the first issue, and ordered that there be printed 80,000,000 ones, 150,000,000 twos, 8,000,000 fives and 5,000,000 tens. Director Ralph of the bureau stated that he planned to rush work on the issue and that the stamps may be placed on sale throughout the country just before Christmas.

FARMERS TO OPERATE MODEL PACKING HOUSE

San Jose.—The first of its kind in this county, a model packing house was opened in Campbell Saturday afternoon by the Santa Clara County Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America. The members of the various local branches of the organization attended and there were elaborate dedicatory exercises. The Farmers' union is a semifraternit, semibusiness organization to which most of the fruit growers of the valley belong and was formed in this county to obtain by co-operation of the growers a better market than that afforded by the local packing houses.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY CELEBRATES 21ST BIRTHDAY

Stanford University.—Stanford University celebrated its twenty-first birthday October 1.

Although it was prophesied on the opening day in 1891, that the professors would lecture to empty marble halls, 559 pupils signed the register in that year and 12,000 have enrolled since.

The highest mark in registration was reached in 1905-6, when 1,786 students were on the rolls.

Besides David Starr Jordan, 24 members of the faculty who became associated with Stanford in 1891 and 1892 are still at the university.

SOUTHERN GROWERS WILL DEMAND CASH FOR ORANGES

Riverside.—"Ship California oranges cash, O. B. California, and stop the tramp car business," was the slogan adopted by the fruitgrowers' mass meeting here. Every large citrus growing district in southern California was represented, fully 500 growers and shippers being present from Riverside, Rialto, Uplands, Ontario, San Bernardino and Los Angeles. General dissatisfaction with the California Fruit Exchange and the California Citrus Association is back of the movement for cash sales.

Municipal Road for Tacoma

Tacoma, Wash.—With a $2,000,000 municipally-owned electric power plant nearing completion at Nisqually, Tacoma will make next spring another venture into the realm of municipal ownership if the city commission has its way. The new venture will be the operation of a street car line. The initial cost of the new line, including the necessary cars, will be $87,000, according to an estimate submitted to the commission by City Engineer W. C. Raleigh.

Develops Bee Without Sting

London.—The stingless bee is the next production of man's ingenuity. Mr. Burrows, an apiarist of the town of Loughton, in Essex, after two years of experiments, has obtained a species of bee which can be handled by a child in perfect safety.

He mated the Cyprian drones and Italian queens, the result being the production of harmless insects, which, however, are splendid workers.

Washington.—All national banks in the United States, reporting that their condition on September 4, as compared with June 14, show a gain of $87,000,000 in loans and discounts, losses of $50,000,000 in cash and gains of $66,000,000 in individual deposits. Gains in all three items are shown over the report of a year ago.

New York.—John D. Rockefeller bought $2,400,000 worth of the bonds of the Magnolia Petroleum company of Texas, which were disposed of last April by the Standard Oil company of New York, according to John A. The conference will be attended by national park superintendents and others interested in the proposed bureau.

Lincoln, Neb.—Judge P. James Cosgrave of the district court has refused an injunction asked by M. M. Morrissey, Democratic candidate for attorney general, to prevent the secretary of the state from certifying the names of the Roosevelt electors to the county clerks for printing on the ballots. Judge Cosgrave holds that such an act would be a disfranchisement of a part of the electorate.

Los Angeles.—What is believed to be the first university course in automobiles, their history, operation, repairs, good roads and allied subjects, has been added to the curriculum of the University of Southern California. Seventy-three young men, of whom three are Japanese, and twenty-eight young women have matriculated for the course, which will consist of sixteen lectures.

"Get in the swim" and boost for the municipal baths.

Read up on the harbor proposition. Then you will vote for it.

San Francisco must wait at least ten years before the people on the east side of the bay will consider annexation.

Health Commissioner Blake is after the milkmen. There will be something doing if milk is not up to the standard.

Summer Crosby was in town this week looking over his political fences. He says they are in good repair and that he will carry Richmond without much effort.

The post series baseball games are now on, and the heroes of the day are securing winter meal tickets before public enthusiasm subsides.

Annexation would not only mean confiscation, but procrastination. Harbor improvements on the continental side of the bay would not materialize.

Don't forget about the harbor improvements. Can you vote intelligently on these improvements on which depends in a great measure the future prosperity of Richmond?

Today is the "rub" between New York and Boston, and you know how the baseball magnates prolong the "agony," and the number of games, to separate the fans from their coin.

The state highway commission should get busy with Richmond's portion of the big roadway. The bulldozer candidates are sidestepping this important feature of the campaign.

The municipal swimming baths proposed for Richmond is one of the most attractive features of a city. Richmond may have this improvement. Councilman Garrard is starting the movement.

The California Press Association at its meeting last Saturday in Oakland were a unit in their protest against the attempt of the government postoffice department to abridge the liberty of the press.

It is said that one year from the coming November election there will be presented a bond issue by the city of Richmond for a number of additional fire houses. With more compact buildings and higher insurance rates, the people want ample fire protection. Sometimes fire protection comes after some of the finest blocks of a city are wiped out by a big conflagration.

The city council has arrived at an agreement with the various companies using overhead wires on Richmond's thoroughfares to arrange the system of poles so that all the companies can use the same set, thereby diminishing the number. By stringing wires at a greater height and with fewer poles, it is thought the companies will have complied sufficiently with the present requirements of the city.

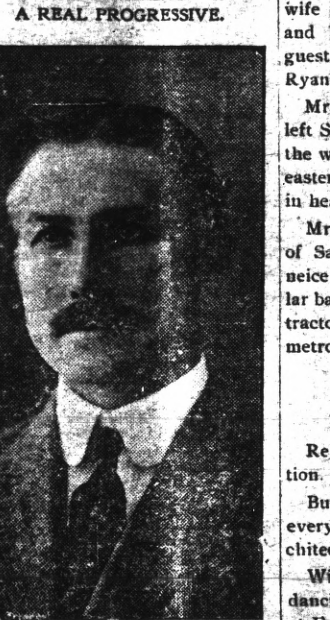

A member of a grouchy league continually complained about everybody and everything, and especially the home paper, though not a subscriber or even a contributor to the newspaper's support. He said the paper was a joke, had no circulation and its editor a nonentity and a 2 spot. The editor bided his time, dictated on roller composition and waited further. And it came to pass that the public spirited grouchy concluded he would like to go to congress. But when the cards were shuffled and dealt, behold our grouchy held the 2-spot, and the once meek and humble editor, publisher, general utility and devil held four aces and a king. And he went to Washington, and was happy ever thereafter. This is not one of George Ade's, but really happened in one of the middles states.

PUBLISHERS MAY BE RECALLED
It is intimated that the next surprise on the program will be the recall of publishers and editors. The publisher of a newspaper is now required by the postoffice department to make affidavit and publish same in his paper on the first of April and the first of October respectively a sworn statement of circulation and also the names of all stockholders, heads of departments, etc. On refusal of any publisher to comply with the law, the local postmaster shall upon instructions from Washington refuse permission of the mail service to said publisher. The latter is also required to publish the names of all mortgagees. This obnoxious piece of legislation was railroaded through congress at the last moment at the late session and was a rider to the postoffice appropriation bill. It must have been put over while the newspaper fraternity were asleep. The latter are now going to test the validity of this raw piece of special legislation. And in the meantime, candidates for public office who have it in for the newspapers, will receive special attention from the "molders of public opinion." This will determine who stands the highest in the estimation of the public—the candidate or the newspaper publisher.

A REAL PROGRESSIVE.

The mayor of Richmond, J. C. Owens, candidate for state senator, is a progressive citizen and stands not only for modern and improved public utilities, but the improvement of the condition of the workingman, that the latter may have advantages of all that a good wage and a shorter workday will procure for him and his family. Mr. Owens is partial to the resident working man, and considers it his duty as a public servant to look out for the interests of the men who are assisting in building up this great Lowell of the West by the sweat of their faces. Can as much be said of other candidates for public preference? Workingmen will not vote for candidates who show no inclination to take a kindly interest in the men who produce all wealth but receive only a small portion thereof.

The plant is now fully equipped with electric motors, and for the three months during which they have been used the cost has averaged $7.00.
